Dear Days of Intrigue Students and Parents:

We are excited about the prospect of you joining the Ole Miss Family in the summer of 2017! We are doing everything we can do in order to ensure that this summer will be one of your most memorable. We ask that you help us out by reading the General Guidelines and Rules located on the Summer Days of Intrigue website. These guidelines and rules give us a structure in which we can assure both fun and safety while you are with us. We take our responsibility to both students and parents seriously. We want to make sure you are aware of the policies and procedures of the program as well as the significance we place on the violation of these rules.

We realize that many of our students will be experiencing college for the first time and we want the experience to be a positive one. Having everyone follow the rules is one method we use. While on campus, students are subject to two separate sets of rules and regulations. As campus visitors, students are subject to the rules and regulations of The University of Mississippi. In addition to the basic University rules, we have our own Days of Intrigue rules. These are the rules to which DOI students should pay particular attention. The penalty for violation of these rules is dismissal from the program.

Please read the following statement and sign the contract. As soon as you have done this, please send this contract back with your payment and other materials.

Having read the rules and guidelines, we understand that Days of Intrigue students will be asked to adhere to all rules and regulations of the program. We further understand that these rules include responsiveness to the authority of the counselors, coordinators, and staff of the Center for Intelligence & Security Studies as well as the Office of Outreach and Summer Programs. We recognize that the penalty for violation any of the rules set out in this packet and reiterated at orientation may result in dismissal from the program.
