GENERAL GUIDELINES

The following information is to advise you of arrangements that have been made for you and to assist you in making plans to attend the Days of Intrigue for High School Students program.

REGISTRATION AND ORIENTATION Registration for all participants will begin at 9:00 am on June 12th. Registration will open at 9:00 am and continue until 1:00 pm in the Resident Hall Lobby. Parents and students will be notified of their Residence Hall and directions via email. We accept cash, check or Visa debit and credit cards. Students may register at anytime during this window and move into the assigned room after registration. During the registration window, there are no planned activities. Following registration and move-in, there will be a brief orientation for both parents and students at 1:00 pm. Attendance for this orientation is required. At the conclusion of orientation, parents are free to go.

Offices for the Center for Intelligence and Security Studies faculty and staff are located in The Old Athletics Building, which is located at 620 All American Drive (across from Martindale and next to the Turner Center).

GENERAL INFORMATION AND OVERVIEW OF ACTIVITIES: The purpose of Days of Intrigue is to introduce participants to the Intelligence Community. Daily schedules are filled with morning and afternoon instruction as well as information sessions with some of the University’s premier academic programs suitable for students interested in intelligence careers.

TRANSPORTATION: You may reach the University by plane, bus, or private automobile. There are flights into Memphis, the nearest large airport. All students are responsible for their own transportation to and from the University campus.

EMERGENCY: In the event of an emergency and parents need to contact a student, the Director should be notified (662-915-1886). If an emergency occurs on campus, students must contact a counselor, staff, or the Director immediately. Contact lists for the staff and other emergency numbers will be given at registration.

MEALS: A meal plan is required for students attending the Days of Intrigue. The meal plan we have selected for Summer 2015 provides breakfast, lunch and dinner at one of the University of Mississippi’s dining facilities. The cost of the meal plan is included in the total cost of attendance.

REFRESHMENT FACILITIES are available in the Union, Johnson Commons, in the dormitory and most of the academic buildings.

VISITORS: Due to the strenuous schedule of activities involved in the program, off-campus visitors are discouraged during the week. Any visitors other than parents must be cleared through the Center for Intelligence and Security Studies prior to their arrival. Visitors must adhere to the rules of the Center for Intelligence and Security Studies as well as The University of Mississippi.
WEARING APPAREL: The activities scheduled will be held in various academic buildings on the campus, and much walking will be involved. We suggest that you bring comfortable walking shoes, an umbrella and rain apparel. Proper sportswear should be brought as well (i.e., tennis shoes, shorts, etc.).

WHAT TO BRING: You should bring sheets (for an extra-long single bed), pillow and pillow cases, blanket, towels, wash cloths, soap, shower shoes, extra quarters for the laundry machines, and other personal articles. Personal articles (including spending money, jewelry, etc.) are the sole responsibility of the student. Each dorm room has high-speed internet connections in the room should a student bring a computer, but students will also have access to the Center for Intelligence and Security Studies’ computer lab and wi-fi.

DORMITORY RULES: Students will be housed in University of Mississippi dorms and room assignments will be given at registration (requests for roommates will be honored if BOTH students notify our office in a timely manner). During registration, students will be given the key to their room and allowed to move in after that time. All students housed in University housing will abide by University and CISS rules. We would ask that you pay particular attention to the rules prohibiting certain items in the rooms (see the end of this document for the short and sweet list of prohibited items). We would also ask that all students understand that all housing regulations are there for your safety and protection - not to hamper your college experience. These rules were not made at random and are in place so that we can all assure you have the best experience possible. We take our responsibility for your safety very seriously, so any violations of these policies will result in immediate dismissal from the program.

You will be responsible for damage to your room during your stay at the University. If you have any accidental damage, please notify your counselors immediately. Complete rules will be supplied upon your arrival, but loud noise is prohibited in the dormitory at all times. Remember that some students go to bed early. Also, a lost key results in a $55.00 replacement charge. If you lock your key in your room, Housing will charge you $5 to let you in (so keep up with your key!!!).

Additionally, you will not be allowed to leave the dormitory before 6:00 a.m., and you must be in your designated area of the dormitory by 10:00 p.m. You must be in your room by 10:30 p.m. For safety purposes, students will be required to sign out and sign in after dinner and at any time they leave campus, even with the director’s permission. Specific instructions concerning the “Check out Process” will be gone over at orientation the day of arrival.

PHONES AND CELL PHONES: Although students are allowed to have cell phones, we would like to emphasize to you that cell phones are not allowed in any class or meeting. This includes text messaging! Moreover, students are responsible for their own property, including cell phones!

AUTOMOBILES: Participants who bring automobiles must obtain a parking permit. Participants’ use of their automobiles while in attendance must include permission of the parents and approval by the Director. Students are not to drive their cars at any other time. Keys to cars should be turned in to the Counselors as soon as unpacking is completed. During the DOI program, students will not leave the UM campus.
